

PEACE COUNCIL SENDS FORCIBLE NOTE TO THE GERMAN GOVERNMENT

Council Demands the Suppression of Article of German Constitution Within a Fortnight on Penalty of Further Occupation of the Rhine Zone if Demands Not Complied With.

ARTICLE CONFLICTS WITH PEACE TREATY

Forbidding German Interference in Austrian Affairs—Article 61 of the German Constitution Conflicts With Article 80 of German Peace Treaty.

Paris, Sept. 2.—The supreme council of the peace conference decided today to send a note in forcible terms to the German government pointing out the contradiction with the Versailles treaty of the provision in the new German constitution providing for the representation of Austria in the German Reichsrath.

The council demands the suppression of the article within a fortnight, declaring that otherwise the allies will be compelled to undertake a further occupation of the left bank of the Rhine.

The article objected to is article 61 of the German constitution as in conflict with article 80 of the German peace treaty forbidding German interference in Austrian affairs.

Article 80 of the Versailles treaty reads: "Germany acknowledges and will respect strictly the independence of Austria, within the frontiers which may be fixed in a treaty between that state and the principal allied and associated powers; she agrees that this independence shall be inalienable except with the consent of the council of the league of nations."

The text of the paragraph in the German constitution referred to has not been received in this country. It appears, however, that the clause applied to all the territories of German speaking peoples in Europe, and therefore to German-Austria, with the effect of providing that Austria might have a certain number of representatives in the German parliament, proportionate to the Austrian population.

EXPECT TO VOTE ON TREATY THURSDAY

Official French Circles Expect Treaty Action By Chamber of Deputies Then—Debate Begins To-day.

Paris, Sept. 2.—It is expected in official circles that the chamber of deputies will vote on the peace treaty Saturday according to Marcel Hatin of the Echo de Paris.

Captain Andre Tardieu, of the French delegation to the peace conference, will open the debate for the government this afternoon. He will be followed by Jean Louis Barthou, minister of state and member of the war council.

The senate will require four sittings before voting on the treaty. Andre Tardieu, speaking for the government during the debate in the Chamber of Deputies this afternoon on ratification of the German peace treaty, said the French war losses constituted 36 per cent of the men mobilized. Fifty-seven per cent of all men with the colors under 31 years of age were killed.

WILSON KEEPS TREATY TEXTS FROM SENATE

Tells Lodge Upper House Must Not Share Presidential Power of Negotiation.

Washington, Sept. 2.—The request of the foreign relations committee for latest drafts of the proposed treaties with Germany's allies has been refused by President Wilson on the ground that compliance would set a precedent encouraging senatorial encroachment on the presidential power of treaty negotiation.

In an exchange of letters made public yesterday Mr. Wilson wrote that it was out of the question to accede to the committee's suggestion, and Chairman Lodge replied that although the treaties were closely connected with the treaty with Germany, the president undoubtedly had authority to keep information about them from the senate if he chose.

COMMUNIST SOCIALISTS WRANGLE Efforts to Arrange Basis of Union With Left Wing Fails.

Chicago, Sept. 2.—After a meeting, which lasted until early this morning and which was marked by acrimonious debate, the communist wing of the National Socialist party adjourned until later in the day. Ten policemen were assigned to the meeting, whose presence, according to several of the members, prevented an outbreak more pronounced than words. The object of the meeting was to arrange a basis for union of the communist and left wing Socialists.

The delegates to the convention divided yesterday into three groups—the communist, left wing, right wing. The latter group was said to represent the more conservative element, while the other two were reported to be composed of radicals. The communist section is said to favor the principles represented by the Russian revolutionists.

R. R. STRIKES PROHIBITED

Also Lockouts in Railroad Bill Offered in U. S. Senate To-day.

NO RESEMBLANCE TO PLUMB PLAN

Though Measure Provides for Regional Systems Under Strict Govt. Control

Washington, Sept. 2.—Private ownership and operation of railroads in a number of regional systems under strict government control, with strikes and lockouts of railroad employees prohibited, is the plan for permanent railroad legislation submitted to the Senate today by the interstate commerce subcommittee.

A tentative bill embodying the subcommittee's recommendations, which bears no resemblance to the Plumb plan, had been introduced by Chairman Cummins and referred to the full interstate commerce committee. The bill is the result of many months of hearings and work by the subcommittee, which besides Mr. Cummins, included Senators Kellogg of Minnesota and Pendergast of Washington, Republicans, and Pomeroy of Ohio, and Robinson of Arkansas, Democrats.

Salient provisions of the Cummins bill include:

Termination of government control and return of the railroads to private ownership on the last day of the month of June next.

Establishing the interstate commerce commission with greatly increased powers as the supreme body over railroad affairs.

Supervision and control of virtually all railroad affairs, including rates, wages, operation and financing, by the government.

Creation of a new railway transportation board of five members appointed by the president to supervise railway development and operations, subject to final action of the interstate commerce commission.

Prohibiting strikes and lockouts of railroad employees under fine and imprisonment penalties.

Defining a new policy in operation of railroads with federal incorporation, into not less than 20 or more than 35 regional systems.

Guarantee by the government of future railroad income, but limitations made upon revenue, "to fair" dividends based on value of property fixed by the interstate commerce commission.

The bill also provides that existing railroad payment contracts with the government shall be continued not longer than four months and that present rates shall continue until changed by the interstate commerce commission, with provisions looking to immediate action toward readjustments.

The royal visitor interrupted his automobile tour to pay a short visit to the home of Mederic Martin, mayor of Montreal, and to the Carriert memorial, which is to be unveiled by cable by King George next Saturday.

The funeral occurred at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon from the home of David Spicer, where he has lived in the city. Rev. J. B. Reardon of Barre officiating.

CARRANZA IS BRISTLING UP

Says United States Invasion a Violation of Rights, Has Deeply Wounded Mexican Feeling.

Mexico City, Sept. 1. (By the Associated Press).—In connection with the recent punitive expeditions into Mexico by the American army, pursuit of bandits who were holding two American aviators for ransom, a message from President Carranza read at the opening session of Congress to-night:

"This invasion constitutes a violation of our rights. Serious and without motive was this violation that has deeply wounded Mexican patriotic feeling."

The message referred further to a request by the United States for the punishment of bandits and cites numerous cases to show that the government has prosecuted guilty parties and has met with a great measure of success in dealing with bandits.

"The republic of Mexico observed the conduct of absolute neutrality but certain governments have expressed the opinion that the government of Mexico had not been strictly neutral, although they were unable to affirm or specify any act on the part of the government of Mexico which would implicate the republic in violation of neutrality."

Judging in accordance with the most exigent principles of international law, treaties now in force and universally established practices.

WED FIFTY YEARS ON LABOR DAY

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac S. Moore of McIndoes Furnish Labor Day Celebration for That Town.

McIndoes, Sept. 2.—The chief celebration in this village on Labor day was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac S. Moore where friends and neighbors from McIndoes, Monroe, N. H., and other nearby towns gathered to congratulate them on their wedding anniversary, their fiftieth. Mr. and Mrs. Moore received during the afternoon and evening, a number of their friends assisting in entertaining the large number of guests. A purse of gold and other gifts were presented.

Isaac Searitt Moore was born in North Monroe, N. H., January 26, 1841, the son of Archibald and Nancy (Moore) Moore. Mrs. Moore was Abbie A. Mason, daughter of Philip and Abigail (Adams) Mason. She, too, was born in North Monroe, April 6, 1850.

When the Civil war broke out Mr. Moore was the first man in the town of Monroe to respond to President's Lincoln's call for troops, enlisting May 21, 1861. He went through nine battles and was shot through the arm in the battle of Fredericksburg, Dec. 13, 1862.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore were married fifty years ago today at the parsonage at Verbois, and began housekeeping on the Moore farm at North Monroe. They carried on the farm until 1897, when they were burned out. Mrs. Moore had a strange premonition of this fire. Their house had just been shingled and painted when it was burned. They had picked up the last of the old shingles the day before the fire. That night Mrs. Moore dreamed of the fire and told about it at the breakfast table. Towards night a terrible thunderstorm came up and the house was struck by lightning, and the buildings destroyed. After the fire they moved over the river into Vermont and bought the house in McIndoes village where their anniversary was celebrated today.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore are both members of the North Monroe Methodist church. They were also local members of the Rebekah lodge when they lived in Monroe. Mr. Moore joined the Connecticut River lodge, No. 7, of Odd Fellows at Barret, February 16, 1891. He belongs also to Austin G. G. lodge, No. 67, G. A. R., of Monroe and McIndoes.

L. C. CUMMINGS KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Was On His Way to His Farm in East Montpelier, Saturday, When Car Went Over Bank.

Lawson C. Cummings, aged 71 years, died at Heaton hospital about 9 o'clock Saturday evening as the result of an automobile accident when his "Prairie Belle" was tipped over the bank in Morse's woods about five miles from Montpelier as he was on his way to his farm in East Montpelier. His latest was a 1916 model, and it is thought his lungs were punctured. He was brought to the hospital about 8 o'clock and he died in an hour. He talked but little before he died, although he told the matron, Miss Lowe, that the machine rolled over him once and then stepped below him on the bank. The deceased was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Amasa Cummings, born in East Montpelier in 1848 and resided in that town much of his early life after which he came to Montpelier, was a member of the firm of Cobb & Cummings in the marble business. Later he sold his interests and went to St. Paul where for some dozen years he was in the same business. He then returned to Montpelier.

He was an inventor as well as a manufacturer of telescope sights for use in long distance rifle shooting. These he made in Montpelier for many years shipping them to nearly every large nation in the world, which brought him into prominence in the sight making business. It was work which Mr. Cummings greatly enjoyed, and which he followed until within a few years.

While he did not operate the first automobile that came to Montpelier, he was the first citizen of the city to own one.

He left the Harris garage about 6 o'clock Saturday evening to go to his farm. He had to detour by what is known as the old county road and while going through Morse's wood the automobile slipped off the bank. He was discovered by Rose Campbell who went to S. F. Morse's house. Aid came to Mr. Cummings and he was placed in Mr. Morse's automobile and taken to the hospital where he died about 9 o'clock.

Mr. Cummings told Mr. Morse that the car pined down for a short time and then rolled off him. Mr. Cummings had crawled some 40 rods from the place of the accident when Mr. Morse found him. Mr. Cummings was born in East Montpelier, July 31, 1848, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Amasa Cummings, one of several children. October 10, 1883, he was married to Miss Nellie Irene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Barnum of Nebraska. Mrs. Cummings died January 11, 1890.

The funeral occurred at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon from the home of David Spicer, where he has lived in the city. Rev. J. B. Reardon of Barre officiating.

ASSAULTED AND ROBBED.

84-Year-Old Woman Was Reading in a Field Near Middlebury.

Middlebury, Sept. 2.—Mrs. Knight of New York City, who has been here for several weeks at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Aines, and who has made daily walks to the proposed site of the new hospital, met a man Saturday morning, whom she describes as about 30 years of age, ruddy complexion and dressed in dark clothes. She said he came up back of her when she was sitting on a rock near a clump of bushes and grabbed her by the throat. The marks show there as well as on the right cheek. At the time he accosted her, she was eating an orange and had an open penknife. She jabbed him in the face with it. He fled, grabbing her handbag, which contained some letters, money, and a gold watch, but he dropped them in his flight. Only some letters are missing.

The woman, who is 82 years of age, daughter, who is here with her, went after her when she was late in returning and assisted her home.

A search for the man is being made.

Mrs. A. M. Carroll, milliner, returned Sunday from New York City where she attended the millinery openings last week.

OVER $200,000 IS SUBSCRIBED

The Peerless Knitting Mill Project Is Practically Assured Now

BALANCE OF $250,000
COMING IN RAPIDLY

General Feeling Now That Goal Will Be Reached by End of the Week

Barre measured fully up to her best traditions Saturday in extending the Peerless Knitting mill subscriptions beyond the $200,000 mark. The 11th hour rush of subscriptions undoubtedly saved the situation, for the Board of Trade and various canvassing committees, after a week of the most arduous labor, were convinced that the $200,000 must be reached if they were to continue their efforts to secure the $250,000 necessary to bring the new industry to this city.

On the big diagram in the office of Sec. W. A. Drew, the indicator pointed to $200,000 when the last subscription of the week had been tallied late Saturday night.

"Our most sanguine hopes have been exceeded," was the comment offered by one of the Board of Trade directors when he was told that the week's quota had been over-subscribed. "It is the finest kind of encouragement and will help us tremendously in obtaining the remaining $50,000," he added. The outlook for the next few days already justifies this prediction. The moral momentum of $200,000 subscribed in such a public-spirited manner ought to figure mightily in signing up the comparatively few subscribers necessary to round out the ultimate $250,000.

The jump from $175,000 to $200,000 in a single half-day testifies eloquently to the splendid community spirit in Barre. It speaks volumes for the sterling worth of an investment into which the city's most conservative men, the little and the big investors, have not hesitated to turn their money. The moral effect of a $200,000 community investment in a project offering not only industrial protection for the future, but an attractive financial return, is going to be a big factor in securing the $50,000.

Within the next few days, it is hoped and confidently expected that people who have not yet definitely signified their intention to invest will be signed up for so general a feeling that the money already made for the actual task of getting the new industry under way, and nothing can stop this program except for a final and wholly unexpected failure to complete subscriptions of the relatively small balance. Investors in neighboring towns have exemplified their faith in Barre and in the new industrial project by purchasing substantial blocks of stock. Naturally, the investment feature has its strongest appeal for them, and they are not influenced by sentiment in the degree that local subscribers are. Yet today they were sharing in the gratification expressed here in the city over the splendid progress made, and those who have already subscribed are awaiting with keen interest the final announcement that every last cent of the required $250,000 has been subscribed.

The $200,000 reported today represents subscriptions actually received and signed up. By the end of the week at the very latest it is essential that the balance be secured, and to that end the entire community must do its part. There is a general feeling that the most crucial hour of the campaign has passed, but the immediate future imposes a task that cannot be overlooked. With the goal so near, the knitting mill project must not be allowed to go by the board.

Sec. W. A. Drew of the Board of Trade may be seen at his office in the Howland building. Personal interviews cheerfully received and subscriptions received at all hours. Tel. 22-W.
